

Auchentoshan Three Wood Single Malt Scotch Whisky

Bright burnished copper appearance. Initial nosing reveals aromas of spicy malt and mild vanilla. There are hints of dried fruits too. Basically a nice integration of Bourbon and Sherry influences that gives both a fair showing. The palate offers good concentration with medium dry, peppery, biscuity malt flavours leading into a juicy raisined finish. Concludes dry with a pleasant spiciness lingering. A solid malt. Overall sits at the drier end of the whisky spectrum.
