

Benromach Peat Smoke Single Malt Scotch Whisky

Bright pale gold appearance. A dry, earthy nose- at first light barley, then wafts of herb infused peat; settles back after 2-3 minutes exposure as briny cereals enter with trace peppermint. Youthful and pleasantly spicy. Mid palate expands as sweet barley, stewed orchard fruits and peat-laced vanilla cream flood the mouth. Finish is juicy, lipsmacking with peel freshness and lanolin late in the fade. Really satisfying, confident malt. This isn't pretending to be Islay, rather it sets a style of its own. Nicely done.
