

Bunnahabhain 12 Year Old Single Malt Scotch Whisky

Deep gold / brassy colour. Opening aroma is flor sherry like, being mildly nutty and oily with scents of wild honey mingling alongside some sulphury notes. Peat is not obvious. Aeration sees a subtle briny note emerge but otherwise the bouquet remains broad, sherry like and ultimately let down by the Sulphur. The palate is moderately concentrated with semi sweet, nutty malt and hints of honey. Some pardonable sulphury moments towards the finish here too.
